The Advantages of Living Downtown

Many people love living downtown in the city. Living in a suburb, or even the country, has its benefits – nice open air, more space, and less noise – but the advantages of living downtown are phenomenal. Downtown living is really suited for those who like a faster-more paced, energy-filled, yet simplified lifestyle. Here's a few reasons why living downtown can rock your socks off.

The City Energy

The vibe, the heartbeat, the soul of the city... whatever you want to call it, people have been thriving off of city energy for decades. Some say, it's what wakes them up in the morning, and lulls them to sleep at night. Whether it's the rhythm of a thousand footsteps, or the gathering of mash of souls, people love the beating of the city's heart and enjoy being as close to it as they can.

More Access

When you're living in the downtown area, everything is sitting right at your fingertips. You have access to more cultural venues, a wider variety of restaurants, any volume of activities, arts and entertainment, even educational opportunities like classes and courses. Never a dull moment in the downtown – it's easy to enjoy and be entertained by a big city, especially when you live in it!

Short Commute

Many jobs are located downtown. Many commuters stress each morning with the traffic to get to work. Why join them? No car? No problem! With availability of mass transit, you can get where you need to go quickly and without having to drive. Maybe it's not quite a private limo, but it beats driving yourself!

The Downtown Excitement

No matter where you go or what you do, something is going on in the downtown. Stories range from random theatrical performances and unexpected parades, to smaller acts of kindness or community spirit. With all the myriads of people around, you can always head out your door and find something interesting going on. Never a dull moment!

*"I adore the vibrancy of the downtown lifestyle. It truly is the heart of the city."
Carmen, Downtown Resident*
